

I am appalled at the potential of this happening - what ever happed to rules that have been established for candidates to have equal time? You should exercise you role in this situation and stop this bias from occurring.